Village, woodland, meadows, views

In Brief

The quiet village of Rusper, hidden away from all the main Sussex high-ways, has two unusual honours, geographically speaking. It is the highest village in the traditional county of Sussex (that means East or West).

Secondly, don't think of bringing your lilo or bucket and spade because, of all Sussex villages, Rusper is the furthest from the sea. This walk was previously designed as a pub walk to the Royal Oak which is no more.

As well as a delightful cluster of period houses and cottages, Rusper boasts two excellent pubs: the Plough and Attic Rooms and the Star Inn, dating from 1486 which boasts a priest hole, where Catholic priests used to hide during the reign of good Queen Bess. The Star also has a large inglenook fireplace and a wishing well. It specializes in authentic native Greek food, with stiffado, slow roasted lamb shoulder and moussaka. To enquire at the Star Inn, ring 01293-871264.

This walk is still seriously affected by closure of the Sussex Border Path, as used in Section 5. First reported in 2023, it seems this situation may continue until 2026.

There is a tiny patch of nettles that might catch you with legs uncovered. A short section through horse pastures can get very muddy if there has been any rain recently, making boots necessary. The going underfoot is quite easy, except for a few crumbly stiles where you need to take care. Most stiles have a gap (or hole) or gate, but one stile is very dog-unfriendly so he must not be too large to heave over.

The walk begins in Rusper village (postcode RH12 4PX): park on the road-side or in the car park near the church, www.w3w.co/rare.oaks.excavated. For more details, see at the end of this text (→ Getting There).

The area around Rusper was settled by farmers around 700 AD migrating from the coast to summer pastures. The name is originally "ruh spaer" or "rough enclosures". In the 1100s a small Benedictine convent, known as Rusper Priory was founded for no more than 10 nuns. It was closed down by – guess who – Henry VIII. The gates to the nunnery, all that is left, can be seen from the Horsham road. The convent's cemetery was found there by chance by workmen in 1840 and amongst the 40 or so female skeletons were various treasures, including a unique 12th-century Limoges enamelled chalice which can be seen today in the British Museum.

The Walk

- 1 Go along the main road to the Star Inn and fork right on the road, sign-posted Roffey, Horsham. Go past the primary school and ignore a footpath on the left at Millfield House. Just after Pucks Croft and a dirt drive, fork left on a signposted footpath. Initial mud quickly clears. The footpath runs through a woodland of oaks, horsechestnuts and beeches. Keep straight on, avoiding paths on the right, to go by an avoidable stile into an open heath with young oaks and good views ahead. The River Mole runs in the valley to your right. Go through a large metal kissing gate and down the centre of a beautiful open horse pasture dotted with large trees. Go through another gate and down a ragged meadow. At the bottom, go through a kissing gate to a drive. On your left is Baldhorns Park Farm with its "Garden of Reflections" created singlehandedly by Paris-born New York-raised designer/sculptress Allison Armour. Turn right on the drive.
- 2 The drive goes over a bridge across the River Mole and runs beside an old mill pond on your right. Immediately after the pond, at a 3-way fingerpost, turn right through a large (open) gate, going past a tennis court with the gardens of Baldhorns Park visible on your right. Follow the fingerpost down into a wood which in springtime is thick with bluebells. Go over a two-plank bridge and up a small mound into a field. Continue along the right-hand side of the field and, at the corner, keep left round the side until, after another 500m, you reach a road. Go through a modern kissing gate and turn left on the road.
- 3 In just 15m, go right at a signpost onto a narrow path. The footpath runs by a field on the left, goes over the stile and reaches a farm track. Keep ahead on the track and follow it between fields, heading for the left-hand corner of woodland about 250m distant that stretches to your right. You have fine views ahead in the distance to the Greensand Hills and the long outline of Blackdown just to their left. On reaching a corner of a wood at a fingerpost, keep straight ahead with the wood on your right. In the next field, keep ahead on a grassy path keeping the young hawthorn hedge on your left. Where this hedge bears away to the left, continue ahead, now on a narrower path on the right-hand side of a magnificent large meadow dotted with oak trees. The path goes down a dip and up again. Keep ahead at a 3-way fingerpost, exiting the meadow in the direction of some woodland, to the right of another fingerpost.

- 4 Go through a small wooden gate into woodland, then on an enclosed grassy path. Go down to a wooden gate into a small garden. Go over a little bridge across a stream and keep ahead through a gate, out to a tarmac lane. Turn right on the lane, passing the ex-Royal Oak pub (now in 2021 a building site).

You may see a "footpath closed" notice at the start of the next section. Some walkers found various ways of avoiding or bypassing the stile with the notice and reported that the reason for the closure, one or two landslips, can be bypassed with care. See the blue text in the next two sections.

2013: update: walkers report that the Sussex Border Path is definitely closed here till 2026! Walkers had to return via the (quiet) road.

- 5 Continue along the lane, going past the fine half-timbered Howells. Just after a driveway, turn right at signpost onto a path marked as the Sussex Border Path (SBP), going over a bridge and a stile. The SBP is a long-distance footpath that follow the entire inland borders of both Sussexes. Go along the right-hand side of a small rather clumpy meadow and over a stile into a grassy meadow. Cross the meadow keeping near the fence on the left. Go over a stile, or through a gate, and turn right on a track. The footpath soon runs by a fence to the left of an outhouse, over a stile or through a large metal gate, then along the right-hand side of a meadow which in early summer shimmers with buttercups. About half way along the side, go over a stile on the right, then turn left to go over a stile on the far side beside a large wooden gate. Veer left into Horsegills Wood.

- 6 Stay on the main path through this spectacular wood [2014: badly damaged after the storms, but still passable, with a fallen tree at the start, easily bypassed], beside a stream on the right. [2019: in 300m, the bank has been eroded again and the path, which used to run a safe distance from the bank, is precarious and you need to take care.] After 400m, the path rises to a gate, temporarily leaves the wood and runs between fences along the right-hand side of a field. In about 350m, shortly after a (dog-unfriendly) stile, you meet a gate on the right (don't miss!). Go through the gate and left at a fingerpost. The narrow path winds through the wood, down steps, to cross a stream by means of a metal footbridge. It then goes up steps and becomes much wider and straighter. At the end of the wood, go through a large wooden gate (easier than the stile).

- 7 Continue ahead along the right-hand side of a large meadow by a fence. Go through a large wooden gate [Nov 2025: fenced off, walkers turned left and right in the corner, through an open gate], then a wooden swing gate, beside a playing field and out almost to the road. Just before the road, turn right on a footpath made of paving slabs. This takes you to the car park, the church of St Mary Magdalene and the centre of the village where the walk began. As well as the Star Inn, the village also has a village store.

Getting there

By car: If coming from the London area, take the A24 through Dorking, following signs to Worthing; stay on the A24 at the Beare Green roundabout; at the next big roundabout, ignore a sharp left to Capel and take the next left signposted Rusper. Follow the winding road to the village. If coming from Horsham, take the Rusper Road from the centre, go straight on over two big roundabouts and keep following signs to Rusper. If coming from Crawley, find the Rusper Road in Ifield Green and follow road signs to the village.

Rusper is poorly served by bus. There are local minicab firms or Uber offering a reasonable deal.
